

offerings

*My father, the butcher, can find a steak beautiful:
The marbled fat, just right, the texture, sublime.*

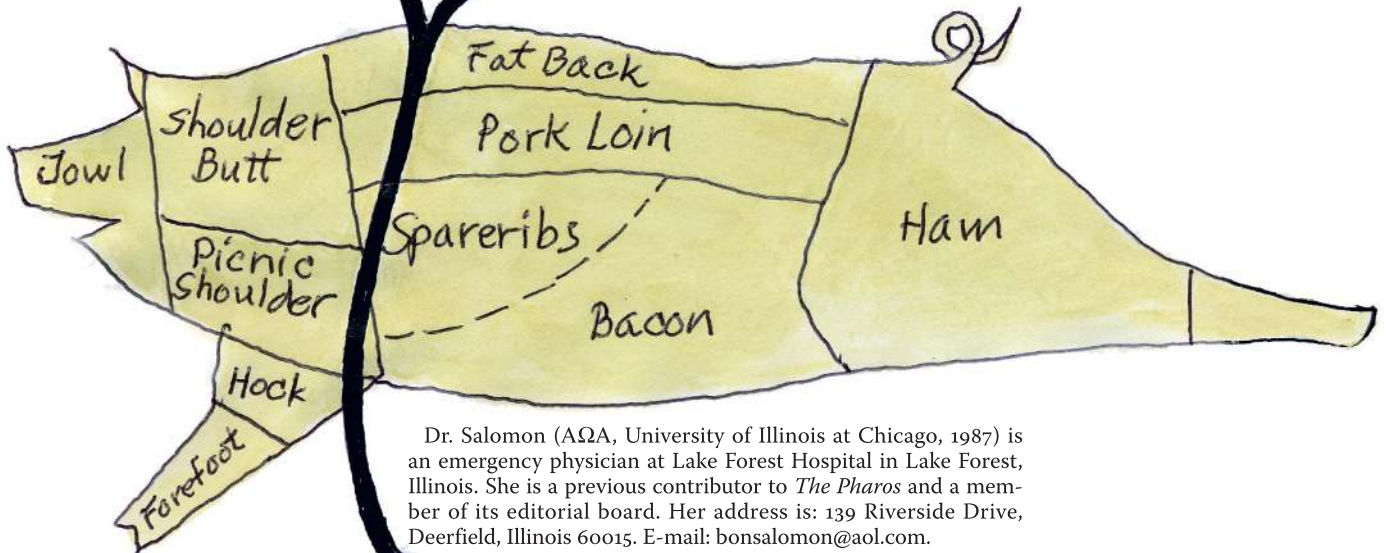

*My friend's father, the grocer, found his produce beautiful:
Pears like golden droplets, melons rotund and ripe.*

*There is a love for what you sell, if you do it right:
To offer the finest, like a gift, knowing its worth.*

*The physician, too, offers beautiful wares:
Comfort and healing to an ailing soul.*

They're lovely. Have some.

Bonnie Salomon, M.D.

Dr. Salomon (AΩA, University of Illinois at Chicago, 1987) is an emergency physician at Lake Forest Hospital in Lake Forest, Illinois. She is a previous contributor to The Pharos and a member of its editorial board. Her address is: 139 Riverside Drive, Deerfield, Illinois 60015. E-mail: bonsalomon@aol.com.