A Life-long Career Relationship Root-ed in Tradition

Founded in 1902 by William Root, and a group of medical students at the College of Physicians and Surgeons in Chicago, Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Medical Society (ΑΩΑ) preserves the highest ideals in the profession of medicine through a commitment to achievement, leadership, professionalism, teaching, service, and scholarship.

Members epitomize the characteristics of honesty, leadership, morality, virtue, altruism, ethics, and dedication to serving others. They are passionate in their commitment to the advancement of the medical profession and the care of patients.

All medical students on entry to medical school, residents, fellows, and all physicians throughout their career are eligible for ΑΩΑ.

Membership in ΑΩΑ may be attained as a medical student, resident, fellow, faculty member, alumni, clinician, or distinguished leader in medicine. The criteria for nomination includes, but is not limited to, scholastic achievement, demonstrated professionalism, leadership, adherence to ethical standards, fairness in dealing with colleagues, achievement in medicine and/or research, and a record of service to school and community.

ΑΩΑ represents physicians who have excelled in the criteria for nomination to ΑΩΑ membership. They exemplify the qualities of an excellent doctor—trustworthiness, character, caring, knowledge, skills, demeanor, proficiency of the doctor-patient relationship, compassion, empathy, values of the profession, teamwork, life-long learning, and servant leadership.

ΑΩΑ advocates for diversity in all its forms when identifying candidates for nomination – identity, cultural, geographic, experiential, race, ethnicity, gender, age, economic and social status, physical abilities, aptitude, religious beliefs, political beliefs, and other ideologies. No candidate shall be denied election because of age, race, color, ethnicity, national origin, sex, pregnancy status, gender, identity or expression, sexual orientation, language, physical or mental disability, marital, civil union or domestic partnership status, veteran status, socioeconomic status, religious or political beliefs, or any other characteristic protected by the Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action laws of a state, province, territory, or nation.

ΑΩΑ is committed to working with its members, Chapters, medical schools, residency programs, and health organizations to improve diversity within the organization and throughout the medical profession.
