William Henry Langhorne, MD

Dr. Langhorne was a pioneering cardiologist in Pensacola, Florida, who treated generations of patients during a career that spanned more than 50 years.

He also was an acclaimed poet, serving as Poet Laureate of Northwest Florida from 1999 to 2009, and as a member of the West Florida Literary Foundation.

He penned 13 poetry books in which he artfully translated into verse his musings about faith, the joy and pathos of the medical profession, and his devotion to his patients.

He graduated from Tulane University School of Medicine in 1957, where he was elected to AΩA. He completed his internship and residency in internal medicine at Charity Hospital of New Orleans, and cardiology fellowships at Tulane and Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston.

Dr. Langhorne was a cofounder of one of the first community coronary care units in the country at Baptist Hospital. He also served at various times as president of the Baptist Hospital medical staff and in other leadership positions.

In 2017, the American Heart Association created the William Henry Langhorne M.D. Lifetime Achievement Award for recipients who demonstrate commitment to quality cardiac health.

Dr. Langhorne was a member of The Pharos Editorial Board, serving as a poetry reviewer for decades.
