Dr. Neil Lempert, 1933 - 2022

Neil Lempert (AQA, Albany Medical College, 1978, Alumnus), passed away December 6, 2022, at the age of 89. Dr. Lempert served as the AQA Chapter Councilor at Albany Medical College for 25 years.

Dr. Lempert was a surgeon specializing in transplant surgery. He served in the United States Army as a Captain, stationed at Fort Sam Houston in Texas, and then at the 249th Hospital in Tokyo, where he cared for soldiers injured in Vietnam.

He was Professor of Surgery, and the Director of Transplant Surgery at Albany Medical College, where he mentored students from 1978 until his recent retirement. In the Summer 2022 issue of The Pharos, Dr. Lempert wrote, "For numerous decades, it has been my pleasure to work with multitudes of aspiring young physicians who have achieved academic stature at the highest level possible. I have had the privilege to work with myriad outstanding medical school students, residents, fellows, and faculty members."

Upon his retirement, he delivered words of encouragement to his students, residents, fellows, and colleagues, explaining that, "The willingness to go the extra mile with inspiration can lead to vast improvements in patient care. Time is on your side; decisions are in your ballpark. I wish for all who follow me in medicine, that their chosen career will provide great satisfaction and the desire to wake up each day and look forward to the privilege to practice medicine."
